Friday Morning Artists began some eighteen years ago when a prominent Easton artist/teacher invited a few local artists to spend time together to “talk art”. They began to meet each Friday morning at an Easton coffee shop. They called themselves the Friday Morning Artists. Over the years the group has grown to more than 50 members including painters, sculptors, potters, photographers and artisans of many disciplines. To this day, the group continues to meet informally to share their enthusiasm for art, exchange new ideas about techniques and discuss what is happening on the local art scene. Members of Friday Morning Artists continually contribute to the vitality and vibrancy of the local art community.

The Friday Morning Artists Organization, (FMA), provides numerous opportunities for artists to display their work. Most exhibit venues are in and around Easton, MD. Artists in the FMA group take turns displaying each month in all the various FMA exhibit opportunities. Each FMA venue is refreshed with a new display of several of its members art work on the first Friday of each month.

To become an active member just show up, introduce yourself and share your love of art. Benefits of membership include the opportunity to meet with and socialize with likeminded art aficionados, to show your work at local FMA venues and with your participation, make a positive contribution to the local art community. The group meets at Denny's on route 50 in Easton, MD each Friday at 8:00 am.
